Class of '84 Larger Than Expected;
Major Search for Housing Launched

An admissions office nightmares: letting more freshmen through the gate than you have beds in which to put them.

It happened to Princeton University this month
Letters of acceptance were sent in April to approximately 2,160 applicants The admissions office expected that 51 percent of the applicants would accept, and prepared for a Class of 1 984 with about 1,105 members- The housing office of the University had set aside 1,106 freshman spaces.

But instead of 1,105, the University already has 1,200 and Stephen T. Miller, who directs the office of housing, has begun to hunt for space Private homes, hotels - including the Nassau Inn - motels, what the University calls "uprated" rooms, which means more than one body to a room - all are being explored

James W Wickenden, director of admissions, says the goal of his office was to increase the freshman class by one percent; instead, the increase turned out to be five percent, the highest in ten years.

"What happened?" is a question with a complex answer.

Mr. Wickenden points out that alumni and staff, aware of the desire to increase by one percent, may have talked up Princeton to students they knew who had been accepted, expressing great pleasure and enthusiasm, and convincing the students that they should accept Princeton's offer and not somebody else's.

Also, there is the economy. Although it might seem that students would choose a place less expensive than Princeton University, Mr. Wickenden sees it another way.

"In times like these, people invest in what they value," he observes, "and one of those things is high-quality education."

Admissions offices try for a "delicate balance," explains Bart Perlman, associate program director for the College Admissions Testing Program at Educational Testing Service, between the number admitted, and the number actually on campus in September.

"Admissions officers use their past experience," he says. "You hope that what happened before happens again But if it were to go the other way - for example, if you get 75 fewer students than you expected, then you could have a serious budget problem It's hard to tell which is worse - more than you expected, or fewer."

Harvard, Yale and Brown have also reported an increased "yield" - that's admissions terminology - from the acceptances they sent out Harvard's increased from 74 to 77 percent; Yale's from 57 to 61 percent and Brown's from 50 to 52 percent, according to figures from their admissions offices.

At the moment, Princeton University seems to have about 75 too many freshmen. Last Wednesday, associate director of admissions Spencer J.
Reynolds said he had around 1,200, but still had not heard from 12 or 15 who had been given an ex-
Ten Years in the Making, Master Plan Approved by Planning Board Friday

At two minutes past the witching hour of noon Friday, the Planning Board unanimously adopted the Master Plan. It has been in the making since 1970.

In two or three weeks, the board will begin to draft whatever major amendments it has in mind, preparing them for public hearings.

Highlights of the new plan:

- The Terhune extension - "loop road" - was removed from the map.
- Institute for Advanced Study land was restored to its original designation as a "Primary" site for conditional high-density housing.
- The Lambert property was removed altogether from high-density housing.
- The Ettl Farm was retained as an Office-Research zone.
- Municipally-owned land on Herrontown Road was removed as a high-density housing site.
- The new "A" road between State Road and Terhune was kept on the map.
- The 72-acre tract north of Herrontown owned by W. Bryce Thompson was changed from Office-Research to "very low density" (three acre minimum) residential, with a recommendation for cluster development.
- The Medical Center will be in a hospital "zone," with building specifications set forth in a new zoning ordinance. In wording changes, "reasonable growth was substituted for "moderate expansion" and the hospital told it cannot "unduly" - instead of "adversely" - affect the neighborhood with its changes.
- The Springdale extension to West Drive, and a "through" Province Line Road, were kept on the map.
- The Cherry Valley-State Road area was recommended for small-lot single-family homes.
- The Russell-Johnson tract was changed from a "Primary" conditional high-density site, to a "Secondary."
- On these sites, the number of high-density units cannot be more than 20 percent of the total number of units. Also, between 20 and 30 percent of the land area of such a site is all that can be used for higher densities.

As it stands now, there are five sites for conditional high-density, instead of the original six. Of these, three are "Primary": the Institute's land, the White farm between Mercer Road and the Lawrenceville Road and the Minant property on The Great Road. "Secondary" sites are the Seward Johnson property on the Lawrenceville Road and, as indicated above, the Russell-Johnson tract, next to Edgerstoune.

These changes were made by substantial majorities of the board. The closest vote was the 7-6 for keeping the Ettl Farm as Office-Research.
By and large, changes reflected the desires — frequently the impassioned desires — of Princeton residents who filled the meeting rooms night after night, reiterating their position.

There was one trade-off: eliminating the Lambert property as a high-density housing site, in return for keeping the Ettl Farm as OR.

Plans to delay action on the Plan never really made it home to the board. Mrs. Penick warned that a six-month postponement could make the Plan part of election rhetoric, whereas shorter delays would mean quorum problems. She also warned of development pressures, and said, "There may not be any land left to plan for — the pace precludes leisure."

Removing the Terhune extension, reflecting perhaps the most vocal neighborhood campaign, was done over the strong protests of Borough members of the Board, all of whom voted against it except Mrs. Penick.

The night after John Degnan — who happens to be New Jersey's Attorney General and who lives at 19 Bertrand Drive — said he had it on good authority that the Department of Transportation planned a 92-A freeway for 1983, but that a "loop" would have a "negative impact" on such plans, Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley exploded, "The attorney general is pretty far from the DOT and I haven't any damn faith in the DOT timetable!"

would rather work with the Institute: "Nothing would be worse than developing that property 'as of right'," she said, referring to the Institute's right to build houses there under present zoning regulations. Board member Wendy Benchley observed that site problems would have to be solved no matter how the land was developed.

Constance Greiff warned that high-density development would open Quaker Road to Route One traffic. The Institute site, she said, is the farthest of any site from community facilities so that people living there would probably not patronize Princeton merchants.

Besides, she said, "the land is the greatest natural detention basin in town."

Several have asked, Mrs. Penick reported, why "use" variances couldn't be obtained by developers, as a way of providing for lower-cost high density housing. That way, no specific sites would be designated.

At Mrs. Penick's request, board counsel Allen Porter explained that applications for these variances are only at the developer's initiative. In order

HOW TO HAVE A LAWN IN THE SHADE OF A TREE
with SandeTuro
Woodwinds Associates

The secret to growing grass under a shade tree is balance. Your lawn trees and the grass beneath them are in competition for both food and sunshine. The trick is to try to give each its' share. If a tree is shallow-rooted, feeding directly into the area of the roots will help develop the roots at their proper level. However, don't stop feeding the grass.
To balance the sunshine, a tree can be thinned by pruning, so that sunlight will filter through to the grass. A good practice, too, is to raise the branch level by pruning away lower limbs which won't be missed anyway.

One or two other things to keep in mind. As the weather gets hotter this summer, be very sure that you do not cut your grass too short. The recommended ideal height for grass is 2-2 1/2", when you cut at greater heights, your grass tends to grow at a slower rate, so it's less work in the long run.

Remember to keep grass free of leaves in the fall. Most grasses cannot stand a heavy covering of leaves.

If a lawn turns yellow, you can always consider a ground cover beneath a tree which provides dense shade. Pachysandra often does much better than Periwinkle or English ivy, and is most attractive as well. MOOMINOS is always happy to answer any question you may have concerning your valuable trees and V.landscapes. Please call us at 924-3500.

ANERSON HERE
For Fund-Raiser. A fund-raising cocktail party for independent presidential candidate John Anderson, with a minimum admission fee of $100, is on the calendar for this Wednesday at 6. It will be held in a private home in Princeton.

Invitations, suggesting a $1,000 contribution and setting forth the minimum, have been mailed to 1,500 potential donors. The candidate is expected to arrive at the reception at 6:30, according to a schedule from the 8 Palmer Square headquarters of the Anderson campaign in this area.

Mr. Anderson will arrive in Philadelphia from Houston in late afternoon, traveling by car to Trenton for a press conference in the State Assembly Chamber in the Capitol. The public is invited to attend, and the conference is scheduled to start at 5:40. Mr. Anderson is expected to remain at the Princeton reception until 8 and will be in Princeton overnight.

DRIVER IS CHARGED
After Knocking Down Meter. A Somerset driver, Ronald S. Cohen, 30, was arrested at 12:50 Friday morning, after Ptl. William Nathan and Sgt. Peter Hanley saw him knock over a parking meter in the Witherspoon Street lot.

Cohen was taken to headquarters where he was charged with driving while under the influence of drugs, possession of a controlled dangerous substance, and possession of CDS in a motor vehicle. He was later released on $25 bail, pending his appearance in court here.

Michael C Hale, 22, of SGE expects to present to Trenton, was issued five June 10 school board summonses after Ptl. Randy Sutton stopped his car last week on Nassau Street at 5:45. The public was invited to submit a coherent and persuasive argument to the school board, hoping to convince members to reconsider their decision to close one of Princeton's four elementary schools.

PARENTS FORM GROUP
On School-Closing. A group of parents, identifying themselves as SOS ("Save Our Schools") committee, has formed to try to persuade the school board to reconsider the board's decision to close one of Princeton's four elementary schools.

The organization meeting of the new group was held May 19 at Riverside School. Parents with children in all four schools attended the meeting, and divided their numbers into groups to study various aspects of the original report that recommended closing a school. Population projections, and criteria for defining educational excellence are particular concerns, parents said.

Woman Who Lost $300 Has It Returned
By Youth Who Made Sure He Found Her

When 13-year-old Shannon Grover noticed three envelopes lying on the sidewalk on Linden Lane while doing his paper route Thursday, he discovered that one of them contained $300 in cash.

His friends flocked around, excited by his good fortune and offering advice. "Finders Keepers," they said, advising against any attempt to locate the owner.

But Shannon, who is the son of Gary and Sandra Grover and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Grover, all of Cheznut Street, kept a cool head and a wiser counsel. The money was in a bank envelope that bore no name or address, but there were also two St. Paul's Church envelopes containing checks with the name and address of a Linden Lane resident.

He wrote a note: "I believe I have something you lost" in red pencil with his name and phone number and placed it in her mailbox.

The woman who had noticed her bag was open when she boarded a bus for New York City where she planned to spend time tending a sick friend, found the note on her return. She telephoned Shannon on Sunday, established herself as the rightful owner, and the envelopes were returned, contents intact.

Shannon received "a lovely reward" and the glow that comes from knowing you've done the right thing.

[$2.55 each]. A Patton Avenue resident called police at 1:46 Monday morning to report the window broken.

An unknown amount of cigarettes was stolen from Appabit Deti, 236 Nassau Street, which was entered by an intruder who broke a side window. The theft was discovered at 8:14 Tuesday morning.

All the change was removed last week from a soft drink machine in the basement of McCarter Theatre, where a windbreaker
and two T-shirts valued at $35 had also been removed from a display case in the lobby. The same day, another soft drink

CYCLIST IS INJURED
When Struck by Truck. A 20-year old bicyclists, John Brown, 12 F'ne street, was injured Friday when he attempted to turn left from the Viking Furniture driveway onto Nassau Street.
He was admitted to Princeton Medical Center for repair of a severe laceration of the face and abrasions of the upper right arm. According to police, Mr. Brown attempted to steer between a parked truck and another being driven by Thomas J . Durcanin of Trenton. The rear side of the truck struck the cyclist, knocking him to the ground.
Ptl. David Alston, who charged Davis with failure to keep right on a bicycle, noted in his report that the bike had no braking devices of any kind.
Car Hits Pole. Betty A.
Patrick of Hamilton Square, suffered moderate injuries
Friday afternoon when her car left Quaker Road and struck a pole between Quaker Bridge Road and Mercer Road.
The victim told Ptl. John Claussen, who investigated, that she wanted to be treated for her injuries in Hamilton Square. Her car sustained front end damage and had to be towed away.

HEARING DATE SET
For Hospital Complaint.
The National Labor Relations Board has set November 17 for the hearing on the board's complaint against the Medical Center at Princeton. The complaint charges that the Center, by withholding from hospital security guards a cost-of-living raise granted to other employees, is engaging in unfair labor practice.

The complaint says the Center is also engaged in unfair labor practice by refusing to bargain collectively with the security guards union. The hospital has ten days from the May 22 date of the complaint to file an answer. If it doesn't reply, the charges are held to be true.

SIGN IS STOLEN

From Peacock Alley. A metal and glass Peacock Alley sign next to the Peacock Inn on Bayard Lane was stolen last week.

Shaped in the form of a shield, the sign was estimated to be 30 to 40 years old and was valued by its owner at $150 to $200.

A portable typewriter in a brown case valued at $20 was stolen Thursday between 5 and 8:30 a.m. from a study alcove in the Woodrow Wilson building.

Soda, candy, cigarettes and liquor were also on the minds of thieves last week.

Someone smashed a window next to a door of the Princeton Wine and Liquor Store, 174-76 Nassau Street, reached in and took two quarts of rum ($5.69 each) and three pints of rum.

machine in the basement of Green Hall on the Princeton University campus was forced open and an undetermined amount of money taken.

A soft drink machine at the William Sword Company building, 22 Chambers Street, was pried open during the weekend and its coin box emptied. Entry was gained by forcing a window of the basement boiler room, police said.

Township police received a call from a student at 2:50 Monday morning that two suspects were breaking into candy and food vending machines in the basement of Jadwin Hall on campus.

A candy machine was forced open and a second machine appeared to have been opened by a key. Police recovered a cash box on the floor.

Ptl Renn Kaminiski searched the area but was unable to locate any suspects.

Bicycle Auction June 7
The Township police department will auction off 52 bicycles and two mopeds on Saturday, June 7, starting at 10 at Township Hall Route 206. Some are in need of repair.

The bicycles and mopeds may be viewed ahead of time between 9 and 10 a.m. They are lost or stolen bicycles recovered by police that have never been claimed by their owners.

MONEY IS TAKEN
In Three Entries. Money was the only thing taken in three entries reported last week by police.

A 14-year-old Randall Road resident lost $55 when his leather Boy Scout wallet was taken from his room. The victim told police that someone apparently had climbed to the garage roof and opened an unlocked window to his room. He added that he had closed the window before leaving for school and it was open when he returned home.

Sgt Robert Heacock investigated.

A Rosedale Road resident left her purse on a kitchen table one afternoon early last week and discovered it.

ning
Gone was her navy blue canvas purse valued at $15 which contained $115 cash. She told police that she had heard a noise in the kitchen during the night. The doors to the house had not been locked, police said.
A Borough resident last week reported the theft from a room of her beige leather and blue cloth pocketbook containing $10 and ID cards.
Police said that a pane of glass had been removed from a cellar door to gain entrance.
The theft was reported at 6:30
Wednesday morning.
CAMERA IS STOLEN
"Buyer" Is Out $20.
Everyone likes a bargain, but a Borough merchant is out $20 because he knew that a bargain he had been offered on a camera was too good to be true.
According to police, the merchant was approached in his store at 8:30 Saturday evening by a tall, bald man with a mustache, who told him he needed money and offered to sell him a 35mm Canon camera and flash unit for $20. The next day the merchant told police he wanted to have the camera checked out.
Ptl. Chris Boutote ascertained that the camera had been stolen just hours before, between 4:30 and 6:30, from a room in Brown Hall on the Princeton Seminary Campus
Also taken was $5 in coins.
Police later returned the camera to its student owner.

WET WEATHER AHEAD
For Next 30 Days. Near-normal temperatures and above-normal rainfall amounts are expected for New Jersey over the next four weeks, according to Anthony Broccoli, agricultural meteorologist at Rutgers University.

Afternoon high temperatures in the state climb from the low 70s in the middle of May to the low 80s by mid-June, with overnight lows of around 50 in mid-May rising to around 60 over the following four weeks, he said. He is a member of the department of meteorology and physical oceanography at the State University’s Cook College.

Normal rainfall for the mid-May to mid-June period is three and a half inches. The weather outlook issued by the prediction group at the National Weather Service’s Climatic Analysis Center in Washington, DC, calls for precipitation above that amount during the next four weeks, but doesn’t estimate how much.

“New Jersey farmers and home gardeners can expect wet grounds to hamper outdoor working conditions during rainy periods, particularly in poorly drained areas,” said Mr. Broccoli.

Soil temperatures across New Jersey are near or above the 60-degree mark, which is warm enough for the planting of cucumbers, eggplants, lima beans, peppers and snap beans, he said. Farmers and home gardeners should still be prepared to protect their sensitive crops on any night when temperatures are predicted to fall as low as the mid-30s, as frost can occur at even these temperatures.

Speaking about the monthly weather outlooks themselves, Broccoli said that such outlooks have only “marginal skill.” “Based on 30 years of forecasts,” he said, “monthly temperatures are forecast correctly 42 percent of the time, as compared with 33 percent by random chance.”
Monthly precipitation is forecast correctly 52 percent of the time, as compared with 50 percent by random chance.

He was a member of the varsity baseball team and is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity. He expects to attend graduate school at Princeton University in the fall.

The sculptor Joseph Brown, professor emeritus of visual arts at Princeton University, will be awarded an honorary degree from Temple University at commencement ceremonies this Thursday.

An alumnus of Temple, Mr Brown taught sculpture and boxing at Princeton for almost 40 years. He was captain of Temple's boxing team in 1929 and later turned professional, winning nine straight bouts as a light heavyweight. His interest in sculpture developed when he modeled for sculptor Walter Hancock and illustrator Douglas Duer, and he spent seven years as an apprentice to the late R Tait McKenzie.

Mr. Brown's heroic statues stand outside Veterans' Stadium in Philadelphia, Johns Hopkins University, Princeton and elsewhere. He designed the chimpanzee dwelling at the Philadelphia Zoo and numerous AAU, Ivy League and other athletic associations' trophies and busts. He also has portrait busts of John O'Hara, John Steinbeck, Norman Thomas, Odetta, Leadbelly, Archibald MacLeish and James Michener to his credit.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I would like to clarify a statement made in your May 14, 1980 issue pertaining to the Master Plan. It stated that my late husband, Bertrand L. Gulick, Jr., had sold parts of the Gulick Farm where houses now stand.

During the mid-1950s, a portion of the farm, which was owned by my husband's late mother's estate (Mrs. Bertrand L. Gulick, Sr.), had to be sold to settle her estate which included the payment of federal and state inheritance taxes.

My husband did everything possible to save our historic home, school house, barns and outbuildings, and surrounding acreage, to preserve the core of the Gulick Farm which has been in the family for centuries and stands at the eastern entrance to Princeton, which also is a part of the historical village of Kingston.

We are proud of our heritage and wish to maintain its continuance for many many.

Credit Where It's Due.

To the Editor of TOWN Topics:

Lynn A. Koch's review of the Itzhak Perlman Concert with its enthusiastic praise of "Music-at-McCarter" prompts us to write and give credit where credit is due.

William W. Lockwood, Jr. is the person responsible for organizing the series, and it is his hard work and skill that has made the series as strong and as popular as it is. In fact, the 1980-81 Music-at-McCarter series is already sold out on subscription.

We are pleased indeed to be able to present such a fine series to the people of Princeton who have made our first season at McCarter so rewarding and fulfilling.

To the Editor of TOWN Topics:

While we were delighted by the article (TOWN TOPICS issue May 14) printed about our office at 342 Nassau Street, we would like to point out a few minor errors for the benefit of those interested in early houses.

The date on the lintel over the fireplace appears as 1730 not 1780. While such data can't be counted as accurate in itself, the style of the fireplace, with the bake-over being situated in the back of the hearth, is typical of the Continued on next page Come into any Bam and see our tremendous selection of glasses clearly divided into 3 categories Good—$50 to $2.75 Better—$2.95-$4.50 Best—$4.75 to $8.95 (that's right, even our most expensive stemware is only $8.95).

At a glance, the work's all done. You can choose the right glass for your needs and pocketbook. Let good, better, best be your guide.

Come in and see how much easier it is to buy glass. Especially during our Annual Glass Sale. Good at the Pottery Bam is still the best.

Good $50—$2.75
Mass produced, and usually machine made, good glass is designed to stand up to lots of handling. Durable, it's often used commercially in restaurants. We have the finest available selection of good glass.

Better $2.95—$4.50
Our better glass is mostly hand-made. Frequently made here in the USA. It is more refined and elegant than the good glass, but not as delicate as our very best. A choice compromise between the two.

Best $4.75—$8.95
Our best glasses are generally our own imports, made especially to meet the Bam's high standards. Best glass is distinguished by its superior clarity and color, thinner stem, and over-all elegance. The best glass is always hand-made.

• Ronald Reagan, who has in effect captured the Republican nomination, and Jimmy Carter, on the verge of locking up the Democratic nomination for President, it would run a close race in New Jersey if the election were held today.

• An Eaglet on Poll conducted during the first half of May finds Reagan leading Carter by 4 percentage points — 38 to 34 percent, with the remainder not choosing. This is a dramatic change from Eagleton's February survey which found Carter leading Reagan by 35 percentage points.

Illinois Congressman John Anderson's planned independent candidacy appears to be viable in New Jersey. With Anderson in the race, the Rutgers-based Poll finds Carter and Reagan each getting 29 percent with Anderson receiving 21 percent. The remaining 21 percent are either undecided or say they will not vote.

Senator Edward Kennedy, badly trailing Carter in delegates, fares far worse against Reagan than does Carter. A large part of Reagan's support is made up of people dissatisfied with President Carter. Of the 384 people who prefer Reagan, only 83 percent say they are voting more "for Reagan" while 49 percent say they are voting more "against Carter." Six percent both like Reagan and dislike Carter. If Anderson Has 'Reasonable Chance'
His Support Will Increase Next Fall

The New York Times reported this week that John Anderson may have the ability to carry the eight largest northern states next fall if he is perceived by voters to have "a reasonable chance." The states together have a total of 216 electoral votes, with 269 needed for victory.

The Times said that a Louis Harris poll asked: How would you vote today, and how would you vote in November, if Mr. Anderson seemed to have "a reasonable chance" then? The first question showed that Reagan would receive 39 percent, Carter, 33, and Anderson 23. In the second, Anderson shaves two percentage points from President Carter and four from Governor Reagan.

On such a basis, the results would be Reagan, 35; Carter, 31; Anderson, 29

Mr. Zukin noted that: "While Anderson appears to draw support equally from both candidates at this stage, he may hurt Reagan more than Carter. The Republican party is smaller than the Democratic party so it is essential for a Republican candidate to draw a substantial bloc of Independents to be elected. A viable Anderson candidacy could pull many of the Independents Reagan needs to win."

Anderson also runs better among more educated New Jerseyans. Anderson and Reagan both receive 30 percent of the vote from those high school prefer Carter with more than a high school while 28 percent prefer education, while Carter Reagan and 14 percent prefer receives 22 percent. FIELD DAY AT COMMUNITY PARK

Friday, May 30 marks COMMUNITY PARK'S Annual Field Day, say Chairpeople Becky Mackey, Sam Ishibashi, Sally Rowland and Bobby Pervin. What is a field day? It’s races - 25, 50 and 100 meters, it's apple dunks; it's booths such as "Far-out Fatima," the palmist and "Zanobia the Wise" with her crystal ball (actually CP teachers and staff) It's Amazing Boxes: a series of corrugated cardboard mazes built by students for others to enjoy It's a barbecue picnic lunch prepared by CP's cafeteria staff followed by a school-wide swim at CP Pool next door Red Cross lifeguards and a "Parents Brigade" make their contribution here.

Why have a field day? It’s a chance for everyone associated with CP to be together, for all ages to share a non-competitive experience; it’s a chance to practice values and skills learned in the classroom in a new setting Gym teacher Becky Mackey’s older students will show their folk dance steps during the Square Dance. Students 3rd grade and up will have the responsibility of running activities and all students may move freely from one activity to another. "And," says PTO Chairperson Sandy Godfrey, "We couldn’t attempt this event without the enormous help of parents via the PTO. The day represents a chance for everyone to work together towards a goal - a goal to be shared and enjoyed by all."

STREAM WALK AT RIVERSIDE

Equipped with boots, nets and specimen containers, students of Mrs. Melva Moore’s 2nd grade at RIVERSIDE explored the Herrontown Wood’s stream. The students, guided by experienced naturalist William Alston, discovered a spring stream coming alive with crayfish, spotted salamanders, larvae of a crane fly, water pennies and other developing animals and plants. Enthusiastic discussions of nature’s food web followed, and resulted in a class vote to return all the specimens to the stream so the food web would not be disturbed.

The trip was funded by the Lyn Gelperin Nature Fund Under the auspices of the Fund, students have taken other field trips and worked on beginning a Nature Center at RS with the help of Mrs Lisa Jennings. So far they have developed a bug terrarium, an ant colony and a butterfly farm.

AND A BIRD WALK AT LITTLEBROOK

Has bird-watching always sounded a bit esoteric to you? Well, you never had Barbara Schwarzchild and Dorothy Minis of the Princeton Environmental Commission introduce you to it when you were in elementary school. This spring LITTLEBROOK’s 2nd and 3rd graders in Mrs. Geary’s and Mrs Sullivan’s classes took their most exciting trip of the year to the Charles H Rogers Wildlife Refuge. "It was one of the best organized trips too," commented both teachers about the marvelous job the two environmental commissioners did in preparing and stimulating the children for the outdoor opportunity. A few weeks ago Mrs Schwarzchild brought her collection of close-up slides of lots of familiar and colorful birds, showing exactly what birds do, picking out and cracking seeds, preening and scolding. Mrs. Minis accompanied with her recordings of their different songs. Then a week before the trip, they brought in plant samples of cattails and poison ivy, each carefully packaged and labeled so the children would get to know them ahead of time. Properly dressed and with binoculars if they had a pair, the students all came prepared - twice, since a rainy day postponed the first trip’s plans. Parents came along to assist the children in small groups along the three different trails up to the bird observation tower. Observation report forms asked the fun questions first. What is the bird doing? Trying to name it was secondary, but with Mrs Minis and Mrs Schwarzchild along as instant reference, only Adam every had more fun.

"It all started last fall at the most interesting all day workshop I’ve ever been to in the Princeton schools," related Mrs. Geary with her usual enthusiasm. "All the 3rd grade teachers got together to try out lots of things Marty Schneiderman had prepared from the new science curriculum. We laughed in the teacher’s room beforehand when we heard about the bird walk. But Mrs. Schwarzchild and Mrs. Minis made the teachers enjoy it so much in October, and the children think it’s just wonderful now."

The Charles H Rogers Wildlife Refuge is located off Alexander Road at the Princeton Water Company. It is 39 acres of mostly swamp which provides nesting and food for 190 species of birds.
NEWS FROM THE PTO COUNCIL

The PTO Council expresses thanks to all the people who worked on and all the people who came to the Council's Lasagna Dinner in April. The wide support for this fund-raiser means that $1092 is available to be used for cultural enrichment in the schools Thank you!

Council officers have been selected to serve for the 1980-81 school year They are: Bobette Lister, President; Judy Adler, Vice-president and Kay Heidere, Secretary-Treasurer.

wearing Certain Colors Can Make You More Likable

Your clothes can make you more likable, says nationally recognized clothing expert John Molloy.

“Our research shows that if women wear certain colors they will appear to be in a bright, cheery mood and are much more likely to be liked.” said Molloy.

“The colors are simple: a blue and pale yellow combination, or a beige, tan or camel and blue combination.” Other mixtures that work are a blue suit with a pale yellow blouse or a beige suit with a medium or light blue blouse, said Molloy, author of the best-sellers “Dress for Success” and “The Women’s Dress for Success Book.”

Pastels and dresses or skirts — not pants — score high with men, he said.

NEW COMPLEX PLANNED

Ground-Breaking Thursday. Scottish & York International Insurance Group, a specialty insurance group for property and casualty business, will break ground Thursday for its new 120,000-sq. ft. national headquarters in the Carnegie Center, U.S. Route 1 and Alexander Road, West Windsor Township.

Scottish & York International Insurance Group, with offices nationwide, currently occupies four office locations in the Princeton area. The corporation expects to occupy its new national headquarters in the summer of 1981.

Mark Landis, president of the Group, noted that "Our continuing growth necessitates expansion to larger and more efficient headquarters for improved services to our producer network. We are pleased to make this commitment to the community of West Windsor, Mercer County and the State of New Jersey."

The Carnegie Center is a 54-acre complex which will contain a luxury hotel and 390,000 sq ft of office space. The Scottish & York International Insurance Group will be the first occupant of the center.

DEVELOPMENT PLANNED

In Lawrence Township. A 16-acre tract on Quakerbridge Mall Perimeter Road in Lawrence Township has been purchased for mixed use development. Taking title to the entire tract, in the vicinity of Quaker Bridge Road and Clarksville Road, was Best Lawrence Associates, an affiliate of The Harlan Company, a New York City development company.

Simultaneous with the purchase of the 16-acre site... was the sale of seven acres to Best Products Company, which will construct a 67,000-square foot catalogue warehouse showroom to open in the fall of this year. The Best building represents the first phase of development which is also expected to include a banking institution and an office complex. The developer has plans to extend Clarksville Road south of Quakerbridge Road, where it presently ends, to serve the entire tract.

SEMINAR PLANNED
On Job Search Preparation. Banner Business Associates is expanding its activities to include preparation for the job search, including preparation for those who are re-entering the job market, making a mid-

Developer Planning Six Condominiums
For Charlton-William-Nassau St. Area

A trio of three-story buildings containing six condominium apartments has gone before the Planning Board for 'concept review.'

The project, tentatively christened "Firestone Place" by developer James Firestone, is in the interior of the Charlton-William-Nassau Street block it would be entered from William, with egress onto Charlton.

Mr Firestone owns part of the land and has an option to buy the rest from Princeton University. A building, once an old Buick agency, described by Mr. Firestone as an "eyesore," would be razed.

Architect Len Groom and Mr. Firestone plan brick buildings designed in a traditional style of architecture similar to that of the old houses in the block, z

The units have been turned on the lot, to allow for privacy, and bulk variances will be required. This part of the block is in a Residential zone, adjoining the Office-Residential zone that fronts on Nassau.

Units would probably have three bedrooms. Parking n would be provided inside the buildings.

Although he declined to give a price range for the condominiums, he said he believed his project would bring "a $30,000 increase in value" to other homes in the neighborhood. He said he regarded "Firestone Place" as an example of what could be done with interiors of blocks.
One's background, evaluating oneself and one's skills, developing a job campaign, preparing for the interview and interview techniques.

The program will be held at the Treadway Inn on Route I. The $30 registration fee includes lunch and workshop materials. For further information, call Banner.

You constantly hear news of how the dollar is doing. What it will buy, how much it was inflated and how it fared on the World Market. The fact is, though most of us think of the dollar as something to spend or to invest, it is as much a commodity as pork bellies, potatoes or precious metals.

Each day the dollar is bought and sold in the trading centers of the world. Some days it does fairly well, other days it is down. Most recently it has been on a steady downward trend following the rapid decline in interest rates. The price of the dollar on the world market is a direct reflection of world confidence in the U.S. economy. It seems like a strange notion, but other nations buy and sell our dollars almost as if they were buying "stock" in America. Unfortunately, our "stock" has been selling at lower and lower rates as our domestic economy deteriorates. That is why we suggest you put your assets into something more substantial than a deteriorating dollar.

To safeguard your earnings we suggest an integrated program of investment involving gold, silver, coins and stable foreign currency. These investments appreciate in the face of inflation and historically offer far greater profit potential than traditional savings plans. It makes good sense to put your earnings into something that will gain for you during these troubled times - not to let your earnings be eroded by constantly spiraling inflation and diminishing purchasing power of the dollar.

After all, you have no control over the destruction of the dollar, but you can safeguard your own assets. Make the most of what you have. Call the Collector's Exchange today to arrange for an appointment with one of our investment counsellors.

Program whose volunteers sit down for a chat with your house-bound elderly parent, and Men is on Wheels.

This reflects, of course, not just a deepening of sensitivity and care, but the plain fact of an aging population.

On the other side of the scale, there are 27 youth agencies listed, compared to 11 in 1968. "Interim Homes for Youth" is a newcomer, providing temporary homes for kids who need a place to live while things at home cool off.

There were day care centers in 1968, where working mothers could leave their children, but women themselves had yet to step forward as individuals. In today's directory is the Professional Roster, an employment clearing house for women who are going back into the job market after an absence of years.

Aid for Battered Women.

"Women Helping Women" is another program. It is one of four listings for the battered woman, a term unknown in 1968 for a problem rarely discussed, even today.

The rape hotline, set up by Mercer County, and the Women's Crisis Center for rape victims bring still another human problem out of darkness. "Abortion"
"problem pregnancy" -- has a listing in this new directory.

People with physical afflictions -- or with afflicted children -- have been forming organizations for many years to help with heart, kidney or vision problems. In today's Community Services directory, you'll find where to obtain genetic counselling, where to learn CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation training), where to find help if someone in your family has terminal illness, where to turn if your child has myasthenia gravis, cleft palate or spina bifida, how to join The Stroke Dub.

Sometimes a new agency is formed to meet a need, often an agency will simply grow itself At the YMCA in Princeton, for example, the directory
will tell you about VIM = Vigor in Maturity, a "shape up!" fitness class for what the "Y" calls "mature" adults. "Encore" is the Y's rehabilitation program for women who have had a breast removed. This postmastectomy group provides light exercise, group discussions and rehabilitation. "On Your Own," at the Y recognizes the changing pattern of family life, and offers moral support and legal information for women who are separated or divorced. "Widowed Friends" at the "Y" touches another subject, once almost taboo: the GOOBBAR is director Richard Brooks screen adaptation ot Judith Rosener's best-selling novel It vividly captures the dark and disturbing underside ot life in New York's singles bars as it follows the ill-fated and contused Theresa Dunn in her search for sex without love in a world of dope and discos Diane Keaton's intense and riveting performance is a revelation, and her partners include Richard Gere. LAST TANGO IN PARIS remains the most powerfully erotic and liberating movie of our time Bernardo Bertolucci's employment of sex combined with passion and emotional violence was a real cinematic breakthrough ot the 70s Marlon Brando plays a middle-aged American widower living in Paris who, in despair, sets up an apartment with an anonymous young girl (Maria Schneider) for afternoons of pure sexual encounter These sessions form the core of the film, during which she falls in love with him and he instructs her m sexual experiences that are still new in conven- tional trine- scenes that are frozen, furious celebrations of the ecstasies and limitations of sexual passion Both Bertolucci and Brando dare to pull out all the stops, and the result still shocks, antagonizes and embarrasses Italy/France, 1972, 165 minutes. FELLINI'S ROMA is much more than the story of a city. It is also the story of memory, reality, fantasy, and of a man and artist - Fellini himself. These themes are woven around a description of his personal encounters with Rome, first as a boy in Rimini for whom the city exists only in imagination, then as a young man first coming to the capital, and finally, as an observer of the contemporary city. All are physical contacts which, in the film, become exultant flights into the past and, by implication, the future as well. This is the perfect Fellini film for those who've never seen one.

DEATH IN VENICE is the late luchino Visconti's adaptation of Thomas Mann's novella about a German writer, a beautiful 14-year old boy, and a sinister pestilence. Dirk Bogarde is Aschenbach, whose search for purity and ideal beauty leads him to cholera-infested Venice where he becomes infatuated with the young Tadzio - an infatuation which ultimately costs him his life in an abject yet triumphant capitulation to his senses. Winner of the Cannes Grand Prize this is also the film that made the Adagietto from Mahler's 5th Symphony a box office hit. ITALY. 1971. 130 minutes. PG.

NASHVILLE is Robert Altman's epic vision of America in the mid-1970s, an immense collaboration between Altman, screenwriter Joan Tewkesbury, music director Richard Baskin, and the extraordinary cast of 24 major characters, all linked to each other and to the film's tragic climax. It is at once a satire, a melodrama, a country-and-western musical, a documentary essay on Nashville and American life, and a celebration of its own performers. The cast is a mixture of knowns (Karen Black, Lili Tomlin), lesser-knowns (Barbara Harris, Henry Gibson), unknowns (Ronee Blakley, Gwen Welles) and Altman regulars (Keith Carradine, Shelley Duvall). All 24 are involved in either the C&W business or politics, and Altman spins us from one to another in his linear-elliptical style. The soundtrack of 26 songs is so integral to the film that Nashville gives the impression of being one long musical performance, as well as both a celebration of its director's genius and a milestone in American filmmaking. USA, 1975, 152 minutes, F

BEAUTY KNOWS NO PAIN. Each year, for two weeks, new coeds who aspire to join the Kilgore College Rangerettes—nationally-known majorettes you've seen on football half-time shows—submit to an incredible, torturing ordeal of testing and training. The value the Rangerette ideal holds for them is demonstrated in scenes of hysteria when the results are posted, and winners and losers embrace with tears and sobs to console or congratulate each other. Whether the film appears cynical or sentimental about these values is in the eyes of the beholder. Directed by Elliott Erwit. 25 mins

LOVE & ANARCHY served notice that director Lina Wertmüller (Seven Beauties, Swept Away) was a major talent. A Neopolitan gothic romance, it stars Giancarlo Giannini as Tunin, a shy, awkward anti-fascist in the early 1930s who coincides with the task of assassinating Mussolini. His mentor and aide in this task is Salome (Mariangela Melato), the leading lady of an elegant bordello, herself a dedicated revolutionary. But Tunin falls in love with a young prostitute, and the conflict between "love and anarchy" sparks an explosion of passions which ends in a final crescendo of anguish and fury. Italy, 1974. 108 minutes. R

LOVE AND DEATH is "the film that God tried to stop," Woody Allen's sweeping, side-splitting spectacle which preceded Annie Hall and Manhattan. Woody plays Boris Grushenko, a reluctant draftee in the Russian army at the time of the Napoleonic Wars, in love with his cousin Sonja (O Diane Keaton) who is not, alas, in love with him. Boris emerges from the wars a nero, and the two wind up in a insane plot to assassinate Napoleon, which lizzies, of course, filled with classic Allen moments, the film sparkles with his nervous and desperate inspiration. USA, 1975. 89 minutes, G
THE KID was Chaplin's first full-length feature. There is undoubtedly more of his own experience in it than in his previous screenplays and it ranks with the much later Limelight and A King in New York as the most personal of his films. Its combination of the funny and the sad, only halfegyptly in evidence in his previous work was to become his hallmark in later years. And the performance Chaplin elicited from six-year old Jackie Coogan became the standard against which other child actors were measured—up to and including Justin Henry with Edna Purviance USA. 1921. 90 minutes PLUS Chaplin's THE IDLE CLASS

SMALL CHANGE is Francois Truffauts marvelously funny and wise re-creation of childhood, never solemn and never sentimental. There is little plot per se, simply a series of vignettes and incidents involving a group of French children (aged two weeks to about 14) in the town of Thiers. Truffauts camera ambles through their lives observing them at home and in school, sneaking into the movies, making do on a Saturday, experiencing the first stirrings of adolescence. Working from the heart, he retains the grace and vulnerability of childhood in a film for all of us who have been—or who still are—children. France, 1976. 104 minutes

THE TURNING POINT is a combination of glorified soap-opera, Stormily human melodrama, and ballet slice-of-life, an old-fashioned backstage movie—musical transformed to the world of dance by a director (Herbert Ross) and a writer (Arthur Laurent) who not only know it, but love it. sentimental cliches and all Shirley MacLaine is Ooedee, who chose to leave her dancing career to marry and raise a family, Anne Bancroft is Emma, who stayed on to become the prima ballerina. Ooedee thinks she could have been the intensity of their lifelong friendship and rivalry is carefully detailed as the film follows the rise to stardom of Ooedee's daughter (Leslie Browne) who chooses the career her mother abandoned. The Turning Point is not really about dance at all, but about people, and emerges as a synthesis of old Hollywood melodrama with a sophisticated 70s awareness. With Mikhail Baryshnikov USA. 1977. 118 minutes. PG

JULIA trades in serious ideas about friendship, political commitment, and growing up. Based on an episode in playwright Lillian Hellman's Pentimento, the story relates a true-life incident in her life when, at Julia's request, she (Hellman) smuggled money through Nazi Germany to help secure freedom for Jews and other political prisoners. The film also examines Hellman's relationship with writer Dashiell Hammett (Jason Robards) Director Fred Zineman brings a Graham Greenesque sense of intrigue to the adventure, and the pairing of Jane Fonda (Hellman) and Vanessa redgrave (Julia) is pure magic USA. 1977, 117 minutes. PG

NETWORK is screenwriter Paddy Chayevsky's deliberately wicked, surreal, and cruelly funny attack on the quality of American life, as expressed through the vehicle of a television network and the way it runs amok in its search for audience and rating shares. The late Peter Finch is newscaster Howard Beale, who becomes the mad prophet of the airwaves ("I'm mad as hell, and I'm not going to take it anymore") and the brilliant cast also includes old-fashioned newsmen (William Holden), tv's new whiz-kids (Faye Dunaway), and corporate hatchet-men (Robert O'farrell). Network is not meant to be realistic, but even in its more absurdist moments it hurts, like a good social comedy should. Directed by Sidney Lumet USA. 1976, 120 minutes. R

THE RULING CLASS is a daring and very English comedy whose path veers widely from sacrilege to perversity, from farce to murder, from black vaudeville to music hall song & dance. It is a full-frontal assault on the English class system and the comic conventions that have grown up about it in plays and movies. Written and directed by Peter Medak England. 1972, 148 minutes. PG

FACc 70 FACE tvdxe Inngr Bergman |ur1 as mysterious, haunting and contradictory as ever Liv Ullmann plays a psychiatrist whose life suddenly starts to come apart at the seams Bergman traces her despair, her unsuccessful suicide attempt, and her apparent recovery, dealing in the process with the reality of her marriage, family and friends. More than (was) a case history, his film is the drama of an intelligent woman's attempt to come to terms with her life Ullmann's performance is a shattering tour de force, the most harrowing portrayal of a nervous breakdown you've ever likely to encounter on the screen. Sweden, 1975. 136 minutes. R

INTERIORS is Woody Allen's "serious" film without a single joke in it, and one has to admire his courage in undertaking what is a real culture shock for his regular comedy fans It's an austere study of the emotional and spiritual exhaustion of a prosperous New York family, and Allen's script out-Bergmans Bergman in its lisation on scree of frustration, self-hatred, and dread Geraldine Page is the dominating mother, whose marriage to E G Marshall is coming apart. Maureen Stapleton is the warmhearted widow he wants to marry, and Diane Keaton, Marybeth Hurt and Kristin Griffith are the three high-strung daughters, each representing a different aspect of the struggle for dominance. Even if much of the material is nebulous and gloominess pervades, INTERIORS is somehow still mesmerizing, and the acting is brilliant. USA, 1978. 99 minutes. PG

PERFORMANCE is one of those box-office failures turned cult-classic Gangster James Fox kills the wrong man and, pursued by his former associates, takes refuge in the pad of a bisexual, one-time rock star (Mick Jagger). Short on dialogue, logic or characterization, the film is long in references to Artaud, Norman Brown and Beuys. Its subjects include violence, identity, and role-playing, and there is much that is nasty, unpleasant and decadent.
But Jagger is his hypnotic self, and director Nicholas Roeg's visuals are pretentious, they are also dazzling. England, 1970. 110 minutes. R

A CLOCKWORK ORANGE was Stanley Kubrick's first film since 2001 and further confirmed his status as our most audacious and important American film director. Based on the Anthony Burgess novel it moves on many levels at once psychological, social, moral, and mythical. The setting is London in the near future, where gangs of roving, adolescent Teddy boys (like Malcolm McDowell's Alex and his Droogs) rule the night, with plenty of the old "ultra-violence" (this is not a film for the squeamish). Kubrick gave us his icy brilliant vision of a future in which western society has become a rod alien, at once super-technologized and aqualid, and takes a galvanizing and hypnotic look at those aspects of

PERFORMANCE PLANNED
In Park Ampitheatre.

Recommended for the whole family, "The Journey" involves the audience in the life of a circus big-top, complete with clowns, a ringmaster, and imaginary elephants and tigers. The audience becomes a film crew making a documentary about a famous clown's life, and everyone goes on a "journey" through enemy territory.

The amphitheatre is reached by taking the Mountain Avenue exit off Route 206. This performance is sponsored by the Princeton Youth Fund, and the theatre is made available by the Princeton Recreation Department.

HANDEL WORK SET
By Community Chorus. The Princeton Pro Musica, conducted by Frances F Slade, will perform the dramatic oratorio "Saul" by George Frederic Handel, on Saturday, June 7, at 8 at All Saints' Church, All Saints' and Terhune Roads. The Pro Musica, a program of the YWCA and Ymca, is a community chorus serving the Princeton area. Handel call "Saul" a “sacred drama,” and listed the soloists as “Dramatis Personae.” The cast for this performance will include Allan Knotts, bass, in the role of Saul; John Kemp, tenor, as Jonathan; Peter Becker, countertenor, as David; Robert Thick, tenor, as the Amelekite; Mary Kemp, soprano, as Merab; Anne Ackley, soprano, as Michal; Lois Leverty, soprano, as the Witch of Endor; and Benjamin Seabrook, bass, as the Apparition of Samuel.

The chorus takes an active part in the drama, as the Chorus of Israelites, as well as singing the monumental anthem sections which give the work its structure.

Handel specified an unusually large orchestra for “Saul,” requiring even a

Opus 101; Schumann, Sonata in G Minor, Opus 22; Chopin,

FUNDS SOUGHT

By Creative Theatre.

"When you're moving to front and center, you need a little backup" is the slogan for Creative Theatre Unlimited's first fund drive in three years.

"We are very pleased to announce that an anonymous donor has generously pledged to match funds we receive from other individuals during this campaign," said Charles Pierce, board president. "We are excited about this offer and the opportunities it provides us, so naturally we are looking forward to a healthy response from Creative Theatre friends."

Through its creative classes, workshops, and participatory theatre, this non-profit organization provides learning experiences in the creative process to children and adults throughout Central New Jersey. During the past year, CTU has reached 7000 children. Regular class enrollment has grown to 450 students from Mercer, Somerset, Middlesex, Hunterdon, and Monmouth counties; and it is primarily from residents in this broad community that CTU is seeking financial contributions this spring.

Besides three terms and a summer session of classes, the troupe and teachers this year presented 40 performances of three plays in repertory, led 12 workshops for teachers from private and public schools, and gave 91 special workshops for children. Creative Theatre was one of 13 teacher-student groups nationwide to be invited to participate in the Smithsonian's symposium celebrating the Year of the Child, and the troupe is now included in the National Endowment for the Arts Directory of recommended artist-in-schools programs.

According to treasurer Nancy Lichtenstein, CTU is making every effort to keep tuition fees stable and scholarships available throughout 1980. It has received grants from the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission to help support the troupe's summer performances for Mercer County children and from the Princeton Youth Fund to sponsor special free activities for Princeton children. A high percentage of operating costs
is earned by CTU's services, but part of annual expenses and budget for projected

Brought to You by John Bernard A

It seems hard to believe now, but the team that won the most World Series in the 1970s was the Oakland A's. The A's won three World Series — in 1972, '73 and '74... Other World Series winners in the '70s were the Pirates with two, the Yankees with two, the Reds with two, and the Orioles with one.

One of the most incredible sports feats of all-time was achieved by weightlifting champion Paul Anderson. He set a world record in 1957 by lifting 6,270 pounds. That's the greatest weight ever lifted by a human being.

I bet you didn't know that many health insurance plans including Blue Cross - Blue Shield do not cover children after they reach 19 years old.

Here's an oddity in big league baseball history, no player ever stole as many as six bases in one game except Eddie Collins - 6 and he did it TWICE. Within 11 days Collins stole six bases in a game on September 11, 1912 and 1 again on September 22. Nobody else has been able to do that even once, before or since.

have been denied them, "we still have a lot of things to shoot for," said O'Neill.

When PHS plays Hightstown on Friday, it will be its fifth game in five days. In the only home game among the five, the Little Tigers will oppose West Windsor again on Thursday at 3:45 and this Wednesday at 5 they will face Trenton High in the consolation game of the Mercer County Tournament at Mercer Park. Notre Dame plays Steinert for the title. PHS Leads Notre Dame.

For an inning, it appeared that PHS was going to defeat Notre Dame by one run for the third time this season at Mercer Park when the Blue and White scored a pair of runs in the sixth to take a 3-2 lead. Brent Robinson's single scored Mark Adams who had reached base on an error and advanced on Keith Phox's sacrifice. Robinson then stole second if and came home on Petrone's single.
Andy Kulinski, who went the distance for PHS, was three outs away, facing the bottom of the Irish lineup. Rob Riccia, however, opened the inning with a single – his third hit – but was forced at second by sophomore Ron Alley. When Alley stole second, the only thievery involved PHS, as far as O’Neill was concerned.

SPORTS

PCS WINS FINAL GAME
In Lacrosse. Almost as an after-thought to its season, the Princeton Day lacrosse team blew out Dwight-Englewood, 15-3, in its final game Friday, a make-up of a contest post- poned by rain earlier this spring.

The most notable thing about the game, the outcome of which was never in doubt, was the play of one particular attackman, or to be more three in the seventh.

Sienkiewicz, Schoch&Kahn

John Sienkiewicz, a former member of Springdale Golf Club now playing out of Bedens Brook, recalled enough about the course to team with Dick Schoch last weekend to win the annual Member-Guest Tournament. Schoch is the current club president and Sienkiewicz served in that capacity while at Springdale.

Points were awarded for each eagle, birdie and par recorded by the competing twosomes, with 34 teams entered and all players using full handicaps. The winners with 88 points were five ahead of the runners-up.

In second place were Wendell Breithaupt and Ben DeVito, followed by Steve Kahn and G. Barrett III, Art Yard and Jake McCandless, the former Princeton football coach, finished fourth, with George Ford and Herb Lainsbach fifth. Kahn and Sienkiewicz won prizes for the longest drives during the two-day event, while prizes for shots closest to the pin on the 126-yard 15th hole went to R. Shaffer and Jim Litvack.

She acquitted herself very well reported coach Bob Krueger. She picked up ground balls well, managed to strip the ball from one Dwight-Englewood player, and had five shots on goal, one of which just missed bouncing in. Wearing a helmet and pants like the rest of the PDS team, she apparently went unnoticed by the Dwight-Englewood players.

Meanwhile, Tom von Oehsen was scoring goals at a record rate, adding seven points to his total for the season of somewhere around 80, the most ever by a PDS player according to Krueger. He stands a good chance of winning the state undivided scoring honors. Billy Ross also turned in a fine performance, scoring four goals; Joe Warren and Phil Pen-ante had two apiece, and Kevin Johnson and Tim Murdoch, one each. John Dreznner contributed three assists.

Looking toward next season, Krueger will not lose many players, but those graduating have been key members of the team. The two high scorers, von Oehsen and Ross will depart, as will Murdoch, excellent on face-offs, Billy Haynes and Neil Munroe at midfield, and John Banse and Adam Barton on defense.

NEAR MISS FOR PHS

In Track Sectionals, Princeton High School just missed becoming the Central Jersey Group 2 track champion Saturday in North Brunswick when it lost a close finish in the deciding event, the 1600 relay to South Brunswick. With the win, South Brunswick edged the Little Tigers for the team title, 43-2 to 41-3. Holmdel was a distant third with 24 points Hopewell Valley, the Colonial Valley Conference champions, and Lawrence each finished back in the pack with seven points each.

After Lamont Fletcher, Jon Woolston and John Perkins had each run 400 meters in the climactic 1600 for PHS there was still no commanding lead for either the Little Tigers or South Brunswick. That left it up to the anchor runners, Paul Miles for PHS and John Dunbar of the Vikings. Miles, who had finished second to South River’s Ken Jackson in both the 100 and 200 meter sprints, Sharpless says his goal is to clear seven feet before the season is over. His best this year has been 6-10. The Mercer County record is 6-11 and the state record is 7-2, set last year by Milt Goode of Monmouth Junction.

The Little Tigers picked up valuable points on second-place finish by John Kellogg in the 1500 (4:07.9), Stephan Fletcher in the 110 high hurdles (15.5) and Milt Goode, Fletcher in the 400 IH (59.4). Hun defeated Delbarton, 6-1. Wayne Davis was tied in the broad jump, 5-10-1, and Pete Sharpless was second in the high jump with a 6-8 effort.

Miles Still Sizzling

Paul Miles, Princeton High's standout sprinter and long jumper, continues to pile up honors on the track.

At the annual Eastern States Meet held Sunday at Randall's Island, Miles won the 100 meters in 10.8 and finished fourth in the long jump with a leap of 21-8.1, two inches better than his previous best. His 10.8 in the 100 tied his fastest time for that event.

Teammate Pete Sharpless was second in the high jump with a 6-8 effort.

Greener again had the big bat, going 3-for-4 and bunting in three runs in an 8-3 victory over McCorristin.

Greener rapped two singles and a double while Anthony Bevilacqua had a single and double for the victors. Hun scored three in the third and wrapped it up with four more in the fifth. Nick Persichetti got the win.

PHS vs. MONTCLAIR

In State Lacrosse Semi-Final. Princeton High School's attempt to win a berth in the prestigious Coaches Tournament failed last week by the slimmest of margins when it lost, 7-6, in a second sudden-death overtime period to Summit.

But the season is far from over for the Little Tigers. They were scheduled to play highly rated Montclair Tuesday -- unless Coach Bill Cirullo was successful in an attempt to have the game postponed for 24 hours. The winner of that contest will in all likelihood meet Columbia for the state championship.

Playing without one of its top scorers, Ian Broadwater, PHS led Summit Thursday, 4-2 at the half and then went 1 ahead, 5-2, early in the third period. The home team, however, tied it at 5 at the end of the period and then forced the game into overtime when it scored with three minutes left to play after PHS had taken the lead again, 6-5.

The first three-minute overtime was scoreless. Summit then scored off an unsettled play in the second OT for the win -- its 46th shot on goal. Cirullo said that PHS goal Mark Miller played an outstanding game in front of the cage... "But you can't stop an avalanche."

"We missed Broadwater," he said. "We didn't have any time to work on an offense without him But that's no excuse. We didn't have it going down the stretch. We didn't have the intensity."

Broadwater had been hurt two minutes into a game with North Hunterdon two days earlier. X-rays revealed he suffered a badly sprained shoulder.

Scoring for PHS against Summit were Alex Versfeld, who had a pair of goals; Steve Budd, Chris Gabrielsen, Steve McDonald and Jimmy Cantrell. Chris Harford had four assists. "We had trouble defensively all game long," commented Cirullo. The loss left PHS with a 9-5 record.

18-1 Laugher. Cirullo described Princeton's 18-1 victory over North Hunterdon as a joke. PHS led, 14 to 1, at intermission.

"It was a combination of just how good we can be and how bad they were," he said. "We were really moving the ball."

Cirullo played everybody and tried every combination. An indication of the mismatch was the six goals scored by PHS freshmen. Matty Kinnan had three and two assists, Willie Whittaker scored twice and Scott Gabrielsen added a Scott Clark was the lone PHS winner against Cherry Hill, winning easily, 6-2, 6-0. He finished the season un-defeated in 20 matches and is 74-4 over four seasons as Princeton's top singles player all four years. He is participating in the singles tournament for top players in the state.

Against Kinnelon, Clark won 6-4, 6-4. A key win, said Diefenbach, was Roger Dinella winning the number three singles after losing the first set at love. He came back to win his match, 6-4, 6-2. Roger Carlson and Keith Goldfeld won the number two doubles to give PHS the match. Kinnelon had entered the contest unbeaten.

The kids really got up after the Hopewell win," said Diefenbach. "They had us at match point four or five times."

David Yim and Andy Goodyear were two who exemplified Princeton's refusal to die at the hands of Hopewell who had defeated PHS twice before this year. In a tie-breaker for the number one doubles match, Yim and Goodyear fell behind, 4-1, but rallied to win, 5-4.

By defeating Hopewell, 3-2, PHS became the Central Jersey Group 2 champion.

Four times last week, PHS took to the court against top teams from around the state and four times the Blue and White walked off a winner, culminating in a 5-0 victory over Montvale Saturday afternoon at the Princeton University courts to win the Group Two state championship.

Earlier in the morning, the Little Tigers had edged the southern Group 2 champions, Haddonfield, 3-2. In both matches, all three PHS singles players won. Heading the list was Clark, Princeton's number one singles player for the past four years, who was not extended in either match.
"He may well be the best player in the state," said Diefenbach.

Against Montvale, Clark defeated Ken A bare, 6-4, 6-2. Richard Diefenderfer won his number two singles match, 6-3, 6-1, while Dinella won, 6-3, 6-2. The doubles pairings had an even easier time of it, Yim and Goodyear winning, 6-1, 6-1.

MAJOR FACTOR: Scott Clark's 20-0 record was a big reason why the PHS tennis team had an 18-3 season, and Goldfeld and Carlson triumphing, 6-1, 6-0.

Haddonfield, which had stopped PHS last year in its unsuccessful state title bid, won both doubles, Goodyear - Yim bowing in a hard-fought three setter. But Clark maintained his unbeaten record this year with a 6-0, 6-1 victory over Todd Fricker; Diefenderfer won, 6-2, 6-1, and Dinella sealed it with a 6-4, 6-2 win.

Revenge Against Hopewell. To reach the state competition, PHS had to defeat Hopewell Valley in the Central Jersey Group two championship round, a title it had won three of the previous four years. PHS won, 3-2.

It had to be the most satisfying win of the campaign for PHS. Twice before this year, in regular season competition, Hopewell had upset PHS by the same 3-2 score. It marked the first time PHS had been defeated by a Mercer County team since formal competition began in the sport. When the Bulldogs won again to clinch the Colonial Valley Conference championship, PHS was pointing to a probable third meeting in the NJSIAA competition.

To get past HF, the Little Tigers needed a win in the doubles where the Bulldogs have been strong. Yim and Goodyear came through but not without a spirited battle. They defeated Marty Harmon and Steve Paige, 6-4, 2-6, 7-6 - the tie breaker going 5-4. Harmon and Paige had defeated Yim and Goodyear earlier this spring. Clark and Diefenderfer both won their singles matches to give PHS its measure of revenge.

Two days earlier, PHS had defeated Holmdel, 4-1, in the Central Jersey Group 2 semi-finals.

Clark won in straight sets as did both PHS doubles teams. Diefenderfer lost the first set, 5-7, to Holmdel's Kevin Welch, but came back to take the next two, 6-2, 6-2. Holmdel's lone point came in the number three singles where Rich Collick defeated Dinella, 6-1, 6-2.

FIRST TWO GAMES WON

By Sweet Jersey Corn, The Sweet Jersey Corn A.C. Women's Softball team opened its season in the Mercer County "A" League with two victories.
The first victim was Blue Max, last year's "B" League champions. The Corn unleashed a 19-hit attack to bury Blue Max by a score of 20-6. Clare Baxter, Dee Pearce and Pam Carone combined for 10 hits.

The next opponent was Scotty's Restaurant last year's A League playoff winners. With Scotty's leading, 4-3, in the fifth inning, Carol Bailey's double brought in two runs and the Corn went on to score a 6-4 win.

On Thursday, the Corn faced defending League champions Guys and Dolls in a game that was called because of darkness after nine innings with the score tied, 3-3. Lisa Jablonski's throw home from center field to catcher Denise Foley in the bottom of the seventh cut down what would have been the winning run for Guys and Dolls.

Pam Carone pitched both wins for the Corn and Dee Pearce leads the hitting with a spectacular .833 average on ten hits in twelve at-bats, including two doubles and two triples.

The coming week features games against undefeated league-leading Three Seasons on Thursday and against defending State Champion Al's Gals on Tuesday. All games are at Mercer County Park at 6:30.

LOCKENMEYER CAPTAIN

For 1981 in Baseball, Mark Lockenmeyer, ace of the Princeton pitching staff and one of the team's top hitters for the past two seasons, has been elected captain of the 1981 baseball squad.

Lockenmeyer, a junior righthander from Manasquan, finished the year with a 4-4 record and a 3.45 ERA and had a one-hitter and a two-hitter to his credit.

Lockenmeyer, one of the leading quarterback candidates for Princeton football this fall, also distinguished himself at the plate. His .380 average over 29 games ranked fourth on this year's team.

Over his three-year varsity career, Lockenmeyer shows a won-lost record of 9-9 with a 2.97 ERA. At the plate he holds a .330 career batting average.

Historical Society is looking for volunteer guides - people who enjoy meeting the public and would like to learn about Princeton and share this learning with visitors to Bainbridge House.

The Society will conduct a special program to train new volunteer guides this Monday and again June 16. The first program will be held from 10-12 in Pierce Hall, Trinity Church, 33 Mercer Street, and will consist of an introduction to the activities of the Society and a talk on "The Growth of Princeton" by Constance Greiff, president of the Historical Society.

Information on guiding, shop-keeping procedures, the Society's activities and the history of Bainbridge House will be distributed. After each new volunteer has had a chance to serve at least one two-hour shift with an experienced guide and to peruse the information, the second program will be held Monday, June 16, from 10-12 as a review and discussion session.
